7 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
8 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
9 AT TACOMA

10 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

11 Petitioner,

12 v.

13 BRIAN BRUMBAUGH, as sole member of
14 COMMUNITY MORTGAGE
ASSOCIATION, LLC,

15 Respondent.
16

CASE NO. MC09-5011RBL

REPORT AND CERTIFICATION
FOR FURTHER CONTEMPT
PROCEEDINGS

Noted for March 19, 2010

17 This matter, along with a related case, (U.S.A. v. Brian Brumbauah, , MC09-5012RBL),
18 has been referred to the undersigned magistrate judge. Both cases are before the court on 19 petitioner's motions regarding contempt. After conducting an evidentiary hearing and 20 considering the record, the undersigned submits separate reports for each case, certifying facts
21 contained in the record for the district judge to consider finding contempt and appropriate
22 sanctions against respondent.
23

24 Procedural And Factual Background

25 This matter concerns the government's attempt to collect information and taxes from 26 Community Mortgage Association, LLC, through its sole member, Brian Brumbaugh
(hereinafter "respondent" or "Brumbaugh."). On May 9, 2008, the Internal Revenue Service

1 (“IRS”) issued an IRS summons directing the respondent to appear before a revenue officer on 2 May 28, 2008, to testify and to produce the books, records, and other certain documents related
3 to respondent’s federal tax responsibilities for 2005, 2006, and 2007. Plaintiff did not comply
4 with the IRS summons, despite repeated administrative attempts to obtain the information.

6 On June 2, 2009, the United States of America, on behalf of the IRS, filed a petition with 7 the court to seek enforcement of the IRS summons. Doc. 1. Despite being provided the 8 opportunity to object or provide the court with argument opposing the petition, respondent did
9 not appear. Respondent has not filed any answer or other pleading in response to the underlying 10 petition.

11 On September 17, 2009, the Court issued an order, directing respondent to appear before
12 investigating Revenue Officer Janelle Lourdeau, or any other proper agent, officer, or employee
13 of the Internal Revenue Service, to testify and produce records as previously demanded. Doc. 9.
14 Revenue Officer Lourdeau testified in court that respondent failed to appear at the designated 15 time and place. The undersigned notes that the Court’s order was sent to respondent via certified 16 mail, but it was returned by the U.S. Postal Service as unclaimed. Doc. 10.
17

18 Petitioner now asks the court to consider holding respondent in contempt of court for 19 failure to comply with the Court’s orders and directions. Doc. 11. On January 20, 2010, the 20 undersigned reviewed the record and issued an order to provide respondent with actual notice
21 and the opportunity to appear before the court on this date to address the issue of contempt. As 22 Petitioner advised the court that Brian Brumbaugh was the sole member of Respondent, Doc. 11,
23 he was specifically informed that his failure to appear on behalf of Respondent would result in a 24 warrant being issued for Mr. Brumbaugh’s arrest. Doc. 13.
25
26

1 The court's order was personally served by the U.S. Marshal. Docs. 14. Pursuant to 28
2 U.S.C. § 636(e)(6), see discussion below, a hearing was conducted on this date to consider the
3 facts related to petitioner's motion regarding contempt. The court took testimony from Revenue
4 Officer Lourdeau. Respondent did not appear for the hearing, and an arrest warrant has been 5 issued by this court for failure to appear at the hearing.

7 Discussion

8 1) Magistrate Judge's Authority and Role in Contempt Proceedings.

9 A magistrate judge's contempt authority is spelled out in 28 U.S.C. § 636(e)(6). Absent
10 action in the presence of the magistrate judge, in a civil consent action, or a criminal
11 misdemeanor case, a magistrate judge must certify facts to the district court. The statute 12 provides:

13 the magistrate judge shall forthwith certify the facts to a district judge and may 14 serve or cause to be served, upon any person whose behavior is brought into 15 question under this paragraph, an order requiring such person to appear before a 16 district judge upon a day certain to show cause why that person should not be 17 adjudged in contempt by reason of the facts so certified. The district judge shall 18 thereupon hear the evidence as to the act or conduct complained of and, if it is 19 such as to warrant punishment, punish such person in the same manner and to the 20 same extent as for a contempt committed before a district judge.

21 28 U.S.C. § 636(e)(6). Under the certification process, the magistrate judge may conduct a
22 hearing. See, e.g., Church v. Steller, 35 F.Supp.2d 215, 217 (N.D.N.Y.1999), but the magistrate
23 judge "functions only to 'certify the facts'" and not to issue an order of contempt. Church v.
24 Steller, 35 F.Supp.2d at 217 (citing Litton Sys., Inc. v. AT & T, 700 F.2d 785, 827 (2d Cir.1983), 25 cert. denied, 464 U.S. 1073 (1984)). In certifying the facts under Section 636(e), the magistrate 26 judge's role is "to determine whether the moving party can adduce sufficient evidence to establish a prima facie case of contempt." Church v. Steller, 35 F.Supp.2d at 217 (citing Proctor
v. State Gov't of N.C., 830 F.2d 514, 521 (4th Cir.1987)).

1           Upon certification of the facts supporting a finding of contempt, the district court judge is
2 then required to conduct a de novo hearing at which issues of fact and credibility determinations
3 are to be made. See Taberer v. Armstrong World Indus., Inc., 954 F.2d 888, 907-08 (3d
4 Cir.1992) (holding that it was error for the district court not to conduct a de novo hearing after 5 the magistrate judge issued a certification of contempt). Where, however, the magistrate judge
6 declines to certify the conduct to the district court for a determination of contempt, the “district
7 court may not proceed further on a motion for contempt where the conduct at issue occurred
8 before a magistrate judge.” Church v. Steller, 35 F.Supp.2d at 217 (citing In re Nova Biomedical
9 Corp. v. i-STAT Corp., 182 F.R.D. 419, 423-24 (S.D.N.Y.1998)); see also In re Kitterman, 696
10 F.Supp. 1366, 1370 (D.Nev.1988) (noting that magistrate's decision not to certify to district court 11 “dispos[es] of the matter”).
12

13           Here, as noted above, the undersigned conducted a hearing on this date. Mr. Brumbaugh
14 did not appear, and an arrest warrant has been issued. In the interests of justice, the court also 15 took testimony from the IRS officer to update the record regarding Mr. Brumbaugh’s continued
16 failure to comply with the underlying IRS summons. Below, the court discusses whether or not 17 the facts in this warrant further contempt proceedings by the district judge.
18

19       2       Standards for Contempt

20           It is well established that the power to punish for contempt is inherent in all courts.
21 Chambers v. NASCO, Inc., 501 U.S. 32, 44 (1991). The underlying concern is “disobedience to 22 the orders of the [j]udiciary,” not “merely the disruption of court proceedings.” Id. at 44
23 (quoting Young v. United States, 481 U.S. 787, 798 (1987)). An individual who fails to obey a 24 valid order of the court may be subject to both civil and criminal penalties for his actions.
25
26

1 United States v. Petito, 671 F.2d 68, 72 (2d Cir. 1981)(citing Yates v. United States, 355 U.S. 66,
2 74 (1957)), cert. denied, 459 U.S. 824 (1982).

3 An order of civil contempt may issue pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 4 401, which authorizes a federal court to punish “by fine or imprisonment, or both, at its 5 discretion” any contempt of the court's authority, such as “[m]isbehavior of any person in [the 6 court's] presence or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice” or 7 “[d]isobedience or resistance to its lawful writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command.” 18
8 U.S.C. § 401 (2002). The court also “has the inherent power to hold a party in civil contempt in 9 order ‘to enforce compliance with an order of the court or to compensate for losses or 10 damages.’” McComb v. Jacksonville Paper Co., 336 U.S. 187, 191 (1949).

12 The moving party has the burden of showing by clear and convincing evidence that the 13 contemnors violated a specific and definite order of the court. Balla v. Idaho St. Bd. of 14 Corrections, 869 F.2d 461, 466 (9th Cir.1989). The burden then shifts to the contemnors to 15 demonstrate why they were unable to comply. Donovan v. Mazzola, 716 F.2d 1226, 1240 (9th
16 Cir.1983), cert. denied, 464 U.S. 1040 (1984). Contempt is not appropriate if the action “appears
17 to be based on a good faith and reasonable interpretation of the [court's order].” In re Dual Deck
18 Video Cassette Recorder Antitrust Litigation, 10 F.3d 693, 695 (9th Cir.1993)(citation omitted).

20 The court also held that “substantial compliance” with the court order is a defense to civil 21 contempt, and is not vitiated by “a few technical violations” where every reasonable effort has 22 been made to comply. Id. The district court “has wide latitude in determining whether there has 23 been contemptuous defiance of its order.” Gifford v. Heckler, 741 F.2d 263, 266 (9th Cir.1984).

25 This court hereby certifies the following facts for consideration by the District Court:
26

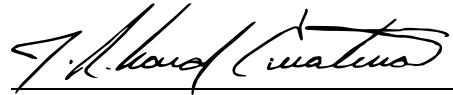

- 1           1.     On September 17, 2009, the Court entered an Order of Enforcement of Summons.
2                 That Order directed the respondent, Brian Brumbaugh, as sole member of 3                 Mortgage Associates, LLC, to appear before the IRS officer assigned to this
4                 matter, or any other proper agent, officer, or employee of the Internal Revenue
5                 Service, and to testify and produce records as demanded in the Internal Revenue
6                 Service summons, no later than twenty (20) workdays following the entry of the 7                 Order. The respondent had until October 16, 2009, to comply with this Court's
8                 order. The Order was sent by the Court Clerk to Respondent by certified mail,
9                 but he did not claim the letter and it was returned. Mr. Brumbaugh was then
10                personally served with the previous court orders, Doc. 12
11
12           2.     Mr. Brumbaugh continues to evade the original IRS summons served on or about 13                 May 9, 2008. The government presented uncontradicted testimony of the IRS 14                 officer to update the record, confirming that respondent has not complied with the 15                 IRS summons through the date of the hearing.
16
17           3.     Mr. Brumbaugh again was personally served with an order to show cause as to 18                 why a contempt order should not be entered, Doc. 14, and he failed to appear for 19                 the court hearing, which has resulted in a warrant for his arrest.
20

21                 Conclusion

22                 The court record presents sufficient facts, discussed above, to certify further
23                 consideration of contempt by the district judge. Upon respondent's arrest or appearance in this
24                 matter, the Court should hold a hearing to consider a finding of contempt and appropriate
25                 sanctions.
26

1 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1) and Rule 72(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil
2 Procedure, the parties shall have fourteen (14) days from service of this Report to file written
3 objections. See also Fed. R. Civ. P. 6. Failure to file objections will result in a waiver of those 4 objections for purposes of appeal. Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140 (1985). Accommodating the 5 time limit imposed by Rule 72(b), the clerk is directed to set the matter for consideration on 6 March 19, 2010, as noted in the caption.
